To Universities and Higher Education Institutions

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Organising Committee, I am pleased to invite your university to participate in the Abu Rayhan Biruni International Chemistry Olympiad (ABICO 2026), to be held on 1–5 December 2026 at Ma’mun University in Khiva, Uzbekistan.

The Olympiad is organised pursuant to Ministerial Order No. 415, dated 7 October 2026.

Named in honour of the distinguished scholar Abu Rayhan Biruni, the Olympiad aims to identify talented university students in chemistry, develop scientific inquiry and practical laboratory skills, and strengthen international academic cooperation. The competition comprises theoretical and practical (laboratory) rounds conducted in English in accordance with the attached Regulations.

Each university may nominate up to four (4) undergraduate students and one (1) university-appointed team leader, subject to the eligibility requirements set out in the Regulations. The team leader must not be a student. We would appreciate your assistance in bringing this invitation to the attention of the relevant faculties and coordinating your university’s participation.

Financial and Practical Arrangements:

Participation is free of charge; no registration or participation fees apply.

Accommodation, meals, domestic transport within Uzbekistan (including transfers between Tashkent and Khiva), and the official cultural programme for the delegation will be covered by the Organising Committee and the host university within the official programme.

International travel expenses to and from Uzbekistan are the responsibility of the sending institutions or participants.

Sending institutions must ensure that all delegation members have valid medical (travel) insurance covering their stay in Uzbekistan.

Universities should register their delegations at olimpiada.edu.uz by 20 November 2026. If technical difficulties prevent online registration, an official university nomination letter containing the complete list of student contestants and the university-appointed team leader may be submitted to iqtidor@devedu.uz. Questions concerning participation may also be sent to this email address.

We look forward to welcoming your university’s delegation to Khiva.

Yours sincerely,

A. Kholiqov
Deputy Chair of the Organising Committee
Director of the Higher Education Development and Global Cooperation Centre

Annex 1 to Order No. 415 of the Ministry of Higher Education, Science and Innovations of 7 October 2026

English translation of the approved Uzbek text

Regulations for organising and conducting the Abu Rayhan Biruni International Chemistry Olympiad

Chapter 1 General provisions

1. These Regulations establish the procedure for organising and conducting the Abu Rayhan Biruni International Chemistry Olympiad (hereinafter referred to as the Olympiad), assessing participants and determining winners.

2. The Olympiad is organised to realise the intellectual potential of talented young people, encourage their interest in chemistry, engage them in scientific research and promote the rich scientific heritage of Abu Rayhan Biruni.

3. The higher education institutions hosting the theoretical (written) and practical (laboratory) rounds of the Olympiad shall be designated each year by a decision of the Ministry of Higher Education, Science and Innovations of the Republic of Uzbekistan or the Organising Committee.

4. The Olympiad shall be conducted on the principles of a scientific and methodological approach, fairness, openness, impartiality and equal opportunities for all participants.

5. The working language of the Olympiad shall be English.

6. The Organising Committee shall be responsible for the direct management of the Olympiad, forming the Jury and the Appeals Commission, and approving the winners.

7. The Higher Education Development and Global Cooperation Centre (hereinafter referred to as the Working Body) shall be responsible for developing assessment materials (tests, written and practical tasks), establishing a bank of such materials, ensuring their confidentiality and the security of anonymisation, and coordinating organisational processes.

Chapter 2 Participants

8. Students of higher education institutions of the Republic of Uzbekistan and foreign countries shall participate in the international final stage of the Olympiad.

9. The Organising Committee shall send official invitations to foreign higher education institutions specifying the conditions and dates of the Olympiad. Each foreign higher education institution may participate with a team comprising up to four students and one team leader.

Chapter 3 National selection stage

10. Students of higher education institutions of the Republic of Uzbekistan shall qualify for participation in the international final stage through the national selection stage.

11. National selection shall be organised by the Working Body and conducted in two stages: the internal selection stage at a higher education institution and the selection stage at the republic level.

Рег.№ 12602 Рег.дата 30.10.2026 Копия электронного документа. Дата: 23.11.2026 08:36. Версия СЭД: Documentolog 7.22.2. Положительный результат проверки ЭЦП

12. Each higher education institution may participate in national selection with up to two teams, each comprising up to four students and a team leader.

13. The national selection stage shall be conducted exclusively in the form of written work (tasks), and results shall be calculated on the basis of aggregate team scores.

14. The Organising Committee shall determine the number of teams from the Republic of Uzbekistan advancing from the selection stage at the republic level to the international final.

15. The Working Body shall develop the assessment materials and marking criteria for national selection and ensure their confidentiality (anonymisation).

16. Participants shall be registered through a unified electronic information system within the prescribed period. The team leader shall be responsible for registering the teams and ensuring their arrival within the prescribed period.

Chapter 4 Organising Committee, Working Group, Jury and Appeals Commission

17. The Organising Committee shall be responsible for organising and conducting the Olympiad to a high standard, approving the composition of the Jury and the Appeals Commission, ensuring the confidentiality of assessment materials and coordinating the Olympiad proceedings.

18. The Organising Committee shall approve the timetable (programme) of the Olympiad and the rules governing its conduct.

19. The Organising Committee shall establish a technical Working Group to conduct the Olympiad. The Working Group shall include room supervisors, invigilators and persons responsible for coding.

20. Room supervisors and invigilators shall be appointed by drawing lots from among teaching staff before the Olympiad begins. A member of teaching staff shall not be assigned to an examination room where a test in their own field of specialisation (chemistry) is being conducted. Student volunteers shall not be admitted to examination rooms; they shall be engaged only outside those rooms, in corridors and common areas, as observers (guides). Room supervisors shall explain the rules to participants, announce the start and end times of the examination, code the completed scripts and submit them to the Jury.

21. The Organising Committee shall establish a Jury comprising highly qualified specialists from Uzbekistan and abroad to assess the theoretical and practical rounds of the Olympiad.

22. The Jury shall review and approve the assessment materials and the marking criteria proposed by the task authors, impartially review and assess participants' work in accordance with the approved criteria, determine the winners according to the ranking of scores and submit the final record of results to the Organising Committee.

23. Members of the Jury shall be personally responsible for assessing work impartially, strictly observing the marking criteria and ensuring the confidentiality of assessment materials.

24. To safeguard participants' rights, the Organising Committee shall establish an Appeals Commission comprising an odd number of specialists, no fewer than five, who are not members of the Jury.

Рег.№ 12602 Рег.дата 30.10.2026 Копия электронного документа. Дата: 23.11.2026 08:36. Версия СЭД: Documentolog 7.22.2. Положительный результат проверки ЭЦП

25. The Appeals Commission shall receive and consider participants' written appeals within 24 hours of the announcement of the Olympiad results. Video recordings of the practical (laboratory) examinations shall be examined as the primary evidence in the appeals process.

Chapter 5 Conduct of the Olympiad and assessment rules

26. The Olympiad shall comprise a theoretical round and a practical (laboratory) round and shall be conducted in English.

27. The theoretical round shall last four (4) hours in a designated room, and the practical round shall last four (4) hours in chemistry laboratories, with the necessary safety rules observed.

28. The 50 per cent (half) of participants with the highest scores in the theoretical round shall qualify for the practical (laboratory) round. If the number of participants is odd, the number qualifying shall be rounded up.

29. At the start of the examination, the container holding the tasks shall be opened in full view of the participants, and the tasks shall be distributed. Participants shall complete their work on the supplied, pre-signed A4 sheets, and the examination time shall be counted down. A participant wishing to leave the room temporarily shall hand their work to the room supervisor.

30. Each round of the Olympiad shall be marked out of 100 points. Participants shall be selected on the basis of the results of the theoretical (written) round; the final result of participants qualifying for the practical (laboratory) round shall be the sum of their scores in both rounds, with a total of 200 points.

31. Each task shall be assessed according to the approved marking criteria: a complete and correct solution, a partial solution and elements of correct reasoning shall receive separate points. Task scores for each round shall be converted to a 100-point scale.

32. Tasks shall cover general and inorganic chemistry, organic chemistry, physical chemistry, analytical chemistry and biochemistry, and shall assess participants' theoretical knowledge, practical skills and ability to make independent decisions in non-standard situations.

33. During the Olympiad, participants shall not communicate with one another, use mobile phones or other means of communication, or consult unauthorised sources. A participant who breaches these requirements shall be excluded from the Olympiad on the basis of a formal incident report; where necessary, the team shall be disqualified.

34. The rooms and laboratories used for the Olympiad shall be equipped with video surveillance. To ensure impartial assessment, all participants' work shall be assigned an anonymous code (QR code); when assessing work, Jury members shall not know the participant's name or their country or institution.

Chapter 6 Determining winners, awards and incentives

35. The winners of the Olympiad shall be determined according to the ranking of the aggregate scores obtained in the theoretical and practical rounds, out of a total of 200 points.

36. In addition to individual results, team results shall be determined and announced on the basis of the aggregate scores obtained by the members of each team.

37. Medal winners shall be determined according to the ranking of scores among participants who have taken part in the practical (laboratory) round and achieved a positive result in that round, meaning that they have not scored zero and have met the minimum examination requirements. Gold, silver and bronze medals shall be distributed in a ratio of 1:2:3, and the total number of medals shall not exceed 50 per cent of the total number of participants.

38. Regardless of the round in which a participant competed, the Organising Committee may introduce special awards (incentive prizes) in categories including 'youngest participant', 'most original solution', 'exceptional ingenuity', 'best experimental result', 'fastest solution' and others. Winners in these categories shall be determined on the recommendation of the Jury.

39. The Jury shall formalise the results in a record of proceedings. Where participants obtain equal scores, all such participants shall receive a medal and diploma of the same level. If an absolute winner must be determined, preference shall be given to the participant with the higher score in the practical laboratory round.

40. The Organising Committee shall submit the relevant proposal for winners to be admitted to master's programmes without entrance examinations on a state-funded grant basis, in accordance with Presidential Resolution No. PQ-4805 of 12 August 2020.

41. Students of higher education institutions of the Republic of Uzbekistan who win gold, silver or bronze medals at the Olympiad, and the mentors who prepared them, shall receive incentives in accordance with the procedures and amounts prescribed for international Olympiad winners and their mentors in the Regulations approved by Resolution No. 499 of the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan of 17 September 2026.

42. Incentives for winners and the mentors who prepared them shall be provided on the basis of the final record of results of the International Jury and a separate order of the Minister of Higher Education, Science and Innovations of the Republic of Uzbekistan.

43. The incentive measures provided for in clauses 41 and 42 shall not apply to foreign participants, cups awarded for team results, or winners of special award categories.

44. Winners shall be honoured at the closing ceremony of the Olympiad. Each team member and team leader shall receive a certificate confirming their participation.

Chapter 7 Financing the Olympiad

45. Expenses associated with organising and conducting the Olympiad shall be financed from the Higher Education Development Fund and other sources not prohibited by law.

46. One-off cash awards for Olympiad winners and the mentors who prepared them shall be financed from the Higher Education Development Fund in accordance with Resolution No. 499 of the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan of 17 September 2026.

47. The monthly salary supplement awarded to mentors who prepared the winners shall be paid from the extra-budgetary funds of the relevant higher education institution for the period and in accordance with the procedure prescribed by Resolution No. 499.

48. The funds referred to in clause 45 of these Regulations shall cover reception, hotel accommodation, meals, local transport and other organisational expenses for foreign participants, team leaders, experts and invited international Jury members, within the approved expenditure estimate.

49. Where necessary, amendments and reallocations between expenditure items may be made by a decision of the Organising Committee within the total amount of the approved estimate.

Рег.№ 12602 Рег.дата 30.10.2026 Копия электронного документа. Дата: 23.11.2026 08:36. Версия СЭД: Documentolog 7.22.2. Положительный результат проверки ЭЦП

50. The Organising Committee shall independently decide on allocating additional sponsorship, gratuitous assistance and grant funds secured for organising and conducting the Olympiad to the relevant expenditure items and on the use of those funds.

Chapter 8 Medical provision and safety

51. The sending institution (party) shall be responsible for ensuring that foreign participants and delegation members have valid medical (travel) insurance; this requirement shall be expressly stated in official invitations sent to foreign institutions. First aid and emergency medical care for all participants and guests at Olympiad venues shall be provided by the higher education institutions hosting the examinations and the territorial healthcare institutions.

52. The heads of the higher education institutions hosting the relevant rounds shall be responsible for compliance with safety rules, sanitary standards and laboratory safety requirements when organising the Olympiad.

Chapter 9 Final provisions

53. In emergency (force majeure) situations arising during the Olympiad, the Organising Committee shall take the relevant decision.

54. Persons responsible for breaches of these Regulations shall be held liable in accordance with the law.

2. The Olympiad is organised to realise the intellectual and scientific potential of talented students, encourage their interest in biology, develop their theoretical knowledge and practical skills, engage them in scientific research and promote the rich scientific heritage of Abu Rayhan Biruni in the natural sciences.

3. The dates of the Olympiad and the host higher education institution where its theoretical and practical rounds will take place shall be specified by the relevant order of the Ministry of Higher Education, Science and Innovations of the Republic of Uzbekistan (hereinafter referred to as the Ministry).

4. The Olympiad shall be conducted on the principles of a scientific and methodological approach, fairness, openness, impartiality and equal opportunities for all participants.

5. The working language of the Olympiad shall be English.

6. The Republic Organising Committee (hereinafter referred to as the Organising Committee) shall be responsible for the overall management of the Olympiad, approving the composition of the International Jury and the Appeals Commission on the proposal of the Working Body, and approving the list of Olympiad winners.

7. The Higher Education Development and Global Cooperation Centre under the Ministry (hereinafter referred to as the Working Body) shall be responsible for developing theoretical and practical tasks and their marking criteria, establishing a bank of assessment materials, ensuring their confidentiality and information security, and coordinating processes associated with organising the Olympiad.

Chapter 2 Participants

8. Undergraduate students enrolled in higher education institutions of the Republic of Uzbekistan and foreign countries shall participate in the international stage of the Olympiad.

9. The Organising Committee shall send official invitations to foreign higher education institutions specifying the dates of the Olympiad and the conditions for participation. Each foreign higher education institution may participate with one team comprising up to four students and one team leader.

Chapter 3 National selection stage

10. Students of higher education institutions of the Republic of Uzbekistan shall qualify for participation in the international stage of the Olympiad through the national selection stage.

11. National selection shall be organised by the Working Body and conducted in two stages: the internal selection stage at a higher education institution and the selection stage at the republic level.

12. Each higher education institution may participate in national selection with up to two teams. Each team shall comprise up to four students and one team leader.

13. The national selection stage shall be conducted in the form of written tasks, and results shall be calculated on the basis of the aggregate scores obtained by team members.

14. The Organising Committee shall determine the number of teams from the Republic of Uzbekistan advancing from the selection stage at the republic level to the international stage of the Olympiad.

15. The Working Body shall develop the assessment materials and marking criteria for national selection and ensure their confidentiality and information security.

16. Participants shall be registered through an electronic information system within the prescribed period. The team leader shall be responsible for registering the team, ensuring the accuracy of the information submitted and ensuring the team's arrival within the prescribed period.

Chapter 4 Organising Committee Working Group International Jury and Appeals Commission

17. The Organising Committee shall be responsible for organising and conducting the Olympiad to a high standard, approving the composition of the International Jury and the Appeals Commission, ensuring the confidentiality of assessment materials and coordinating the Olympiad proceedings.

18. The Organising Committee shall approve the programme of the Olympiad and the rules governing its conduct.

19. The Organising Committee shall establish a technical working group to conduct the Olympiad. The technical working group shall include room supervisors, invigilators, laboratory technical staff and persons responsible for coding.

20. Room supervisors and invigilators shall be appointed by drawing lots from among teaching staff and responsible personnel before the Olympiad begins. They shall not be assigned to rooms accommodating participants from the higher education institutions where they work. Student volunteers shall not be admitted to examination rooms. They may be engaged only outside examination rooms, in corridors and common areas, as observers or guides. Room supervisors shall explain the examination procedure to participants, announce its start and end times and hand completed scripts to the persons responsible for coding.

21. An International Jury comprising highly qualified scientists, university teaching staff and specialists in the relevant fields from Uzbekistan and abroad shall be established to assess the theoretical and practical rounds of the Olympiad.

22. The International Jury shall review the assessment materials and the marking criteria proposed by the task authors, assess participants' work impartially against the approved criteria, determine individual and team results and submit the final record of results to the Organising Committee.

23. Members of the International Jury shall be personally responsible for assessing work impartially, strictly observing the marking criteria and ensuring the confidentiality of assessment materials.

24. To safeguard participants' rights and legitimate interests, an Appeals Commission shall be established comprising an odd number of specialists, no fewer than five, who are not members of the International Jury.

25. The Appeals Commission shall receive and consider written or electronic appeals from participants or team leaders within 24 hours of the announcement of preliminary results. In considering an appeal, the participant's written work, laboratory records, marking sheets, video surveillance recordings and other relevant materials shall be examined.

Chapter 5 Conduct of the Olympiad and assessment rules

26. The Olympiad shall comprise a theoretical round and a practical (laboratory) round and shall be conducted in English.

27. The theoretical round shall last four hours in a designated room, and the practical round shall last four hours in biology laboratories, with the necessary safety rules observed.

28. The 50 per cent of participants with the highest scores in the theoretical round shall qualify for the practical round. If the number of participants is odd, the number qualifying for the practical round shall be rounded up.

29. At the start of the examination, the sealed container or protected electronic file holding the tasks shall be opened in the presence of participants and responsible personnel, and the tasks shall be distributed. A participant who needs to leave the room temporarily shall hand their work to the room supervisor.

30. Each round of the Olympiad shall be marked out of 100 points. The final result of a participant qualifying for the practical round shall be the sum of the points obtained in the theoretical and practical rounds, with a maximum aggregate score of 200 points.

31. Each task shall be assessed according to the approved marking criteria. A complete and correct answer, a partially correct answer, substantiated scientific reasoning, and the correct recording and analysis of experimental results shall receive the corresponding points. Task scores for each round shall be converted to a 100-point scale.

32. Tasks may cover cell and molecular biology, biochemistry, genetics and evolution, microbiology, plant anatomy and physiology, animal and human anatomy and physiology, ecology, biosystematics, biotechnology and bioinformatics. Tasks shall assess participants' theoretical knowledge, practical skills, ability to analyse experimental data and ability to make independent decisions in non-standard situations.

33. During the Olympiad, participants shall not communicate with one another, give assistance to or receive assistance from another participant, use mobile phones or other means of communication, or consult unauthorised sources. A participant who breaches these requirements shall be excluded from the Olympiad on the basis of a formal incident report. Where a breach is found to have resulted from coordinated action by team members, the team may be disqualified by a decision of the Organising Committee.

34. The rooms and laboratories used for the Olympiad shall be equipped with video surveillance. To ensure impartial assessment, participants' work shall be coded using a special code or QR code. When assessing work, International Jury members shall not know the participant's identity, country or higher education institution.

Chapter 6 Determining winners awards and incentives

35. Final individual results of the Olympiad shall be determined on the basis of the aggregate scores obtained in the theoretical and practical rounds, ranked in descending order from the highest score.

36. In addition to individual results, team results shall be determined and announced on the basis of the aggregate scores obtained by the members of each team. The practical-round score of a team member who did not participate in that round shall be taken as zero (0).

37. Medal winners shall be determined from among participants who have taken part in the practical round and obtained at least 50 per cent of the maximum aggregate score for the theoretical and practical rounds and at least 30 per cent of the maximum score for the practical round. Gold, silver and bronze medals shall be distributed in numbers as close as possible to a ratio of 1:2:3. The total number of medals shall not exceed 50 per cent of the total number of participants who took part in the theoretical round and whose results have not been annulled.

38. On the proposal of the International Jury, the Organising Committee may introduce special award categories including 'best experimental result', 'most original scientific solution', 'best theoretical result', 'best young researcher' and others. Winners of special award categories may receive diplomas and commemorative gifts. A special award category shall not be equivalent in status to an individual medal.

39. The International Jury shall formalise the results in a record of proceedings. Where participants' aggregate scores are equal, preference shall be given to the participant with the higher score in the practical round. If the tie remains, scores obtained on practical tasks of a higher level of difficulty, followed by scores on theoretical tasks, shall be taken into account. Where necessary, an additional written or practical task may be administered.

40. Relevant proposals shall be submitted for winning students to be admitted to master's programmes in the relevant specialisations without entrance examinations on a state-funded grant basis, in accordance with Presidential Resolution No. PQ-4805 of 12 August 2020.

41. Students of higher education institutions of the Republic of Uzbekistan who win gold, silver or bronze medals at the Olympiad, and the mentors who prepared them, shall receive incentives in accordance with the procedures and amounts prescribed for international Olympiad winners and their mentors in the Regulations approved by Resolution No. 499 of the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan of 17 September 2026.

42. Incentives for winners and the mentors who prepared them shall be provided on the basis of the final record of results of the International Jury and a separate order of the Minister of Higher Education, Science and Innovations of the Republic of Uzbekistan.

43. The incentive measures provided for in clauses 41 and 42 shall not apply to foreign participants, cups awarded for team results, or winners of special award categories.

44. Winners shall be honoured at the closing ceremony of the Olympiad. Individual winners shall receive a medal of the appropriate level and a diploma, and each participant and team leader shall receive a certificate of participation.

Chapter 7 Financing the Olympiad

45. Expenses associated with organising and conducting the Olympiad shall be financed from the Higher Education Development Fund, the extra-budgetary funds of the host higher education institution and other sources not prohibited by law.

46. One-off cash awards for Olympiad winners and the mentors who prepared them shall be financed from the Higher Education Development Fund in accordance with Resolution No. 499 of the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan of 17 September 2026.

47. The monthly salary supplement awarded to mentors who prepared the winners shall be paid from the extra-budgetary funds of the relevant higher education institution for the period and in accordance with the procedure prescribed by Resolution No. 499.

48. The funds referred to in clause 45 of these Regulations shall cover reception, hotel accommodation, meals, local transport and other organisational expenses for foreign participants, team leaders, experts and invited international Jury members, within the approved expenditure estimate.

49. Where necessary, amendments and reallocations between expenditure items may be made by a decision of the Organising Committee within the total amount of the approved expenditure estimate.

50. Additional sponsorship donations, gratuitous assistance and grant funds secured for organising and conducting the Olympiad shall be used in accordance with the procedure prescribed by law.

Chapter 8 Medical provision and safety

51. The sending organisation shall be responsible for ensuring that foreign participants and delegation members have valid medical or travel insurance. This requirement shall be stated in official invitations sent to foreign higher education institutions. First aid and emergency medical care for participants and guests at Olympiad venues shall be provided by the host higher education institution and the territorial healthcare institutions.

52. The head of the host higher education institution shall be responsible for compliance with sanitary, occupational safety, fire safety and biological safety requirements when organising the Olympiad. To ensure that practical examinations are conducted safely and in accordance with uniform requirements, guidelines for conducting the laboratory stage shall be developed by the Working Body and the host higher education institution and approved by the Organising Committee.

Chapter 9 Final provisions

53. In emergency or force majeure situations arising during the Olympiad, the Organising Committee shall take the relevant decision.

54. Persons responsible for breaches of these Regulations shall be held liable in accordance with the law.
