SUBMISSION FORMATTING REQUIREMENTS

- Submit the electronic document in Microsoft Word 2003-2007 format (*.doc). The file name must be the surname of the author or first co-author.
- Font: Times New Roman, 12 pt. Bold and italics are allowed; underlining is not permitted.
- A4 portrait; 2 cm margins on all sides; pages unnumbered; single line spacing; justified text.
- First-line indent: 1.25 cm. Maximum length: 5 pages.
- The paper must be checked using Antiplagiat; text originality must be at least 75%.

Materials must be arranged in the following order (see Appendix 1):

- UDC code, aligned left;
- authors' initials and surnames, academic degree and title, position, full department and institution name, and city;
- paper title, 12 pt, bold, uppercase and centered;
- abstract of up to 300 characters and at least five keywords;
- main text; figures, diagrams and tables must appear after the paragraph in which they are cited;
- references prepared in accordance with GOST R 7.0.5-2008 and introduced by the heading “References.”

NOTES, ABBREVIATIONS, REFERENCES AND QUOTATIONS

Notes, comments and explanations must be provided as footnotes. Abbreviations other than common ones, organization names, tests, questionnaires and symbols must be defined immediately after their first use.

Source references must appear in square brackets in the body of the paper, indicating the source number from the bibliography and the page, for example [3, p. 52]. Multiple sources: [3, pp. 28-29; 5, p. 12]. References to works that are still in press are not permitted.

Quotations must be enclosed in quotation marks and followed by the source number and page, for example: “...a clear decision was made to implement the competency-based approach” [7, p. 21].

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE REFERENCE LIST

The reference list is included in the total paper length, is headed “References,” and is placed at the end of the paper. Authors are encouraged to cite both domestic and international research. Textbooks should not be included unless justified by the study, and irrelevant sources must be excluded. Sources should normally be no more than 10 years old, except for classic works with no recent reissue.

Self-citation may account for no more than 30% of all sources. A study based on the author's earlier publications must demonstrate novelty. Sources are listed alphabetically; foreign-language sources are placed at the end. Every item in the reference list must be cited in the text.
